And now Fort Pierce, the prosperous little fishing town on the lower East Coast, is to have a newspaper. It will be called the Fort Pierce News, and published by Charles Emerson, a newspaper man from Chicago.

This is a truism expressed by the New Smyrna Breeze: "It's Davis, Taliaferro and Dougherty down in this neck of the woods." They are men of brains and business integrity, and are making up claims that their past records will not substantiate.

The Carnival Edition of the Times-Union was a "hummer." It contained forty pages, many of them printed in colors. It was full of good reading matter and illustrations, and all around it newspaper that Florida should well be proud of.

There is but 100 acres of land in all the world, says the Ocala Banner, devoted to the cultivation of the pepper from which tobacco sauce is made, and but one factory, Tobacco pepper—the hottest thing on earth—promises to become popular in Florida. Our Senatorial and Congressional candidates might monopolize the industry and have things their own way.

"Uncle Will" Call has shied his cursor into the political arena and announced by letter to the politicians assembled at Fort Pierce last week that he is a candidate for Senatorial honors. Now, Will, has about as much show as Jennings and Stockton to go to Washington as a Florida Senator, but none of them have a ghost of a show. Taliaferro is the favorite candidate, and when the smoke of the primaries roll away next summer he will be the lead horse by a long distance.

The Jacksonville Metropolis pays this nice compliment to Hon. Robert W. Davis, candidate for Governor of Florida: "No one is foolish enough to believe that 'Bob' Davis is in any essential a weak man. He is strong intellectually, politically and personally. This has already been demonstrated by his almost unanimous nomination and election for three times to Congress. Davis is a man of the people, and he is not by any means a factional politician. He never refuses to do any one a favor, if possible to do so, be the applicant ever so humble. His good political and personal record is the source of much of his strength."

MORE ON SEWERAGE QUESTION

Editor Gazette-News:

The article in the Gazette-News last week signed "Why not" may answer very well for a few years, and would probably do for that length of time, till our city grows larger—and, presumably, better able to bear the expense—but what of the future? That needs to be well considered before any hasty action be taken.

When our committee returned from their tour of investigation, and the engineers had looked over the ground carefully, we were told it would probably cost—according to plans proposed—about $50,000. Now it is raised to $70,000 with present plans, and when it goes out of our conservative Council's hands of seven men, and put in charge of three, whoever they may be, no telling where it may go, as all contracts are usually overrun with extra, that seem necessary, not thought of at the time, as all those who attempt building will know from experience.

No plans or specifications with cost of separate plans for sewerage and water works having been published, we are at sea as to their reasonableness, except from verbal reports, but from these we think there is a better way, for the sewerage question. Several years ago having my attention called to a system largely used in England and Scotland, I sent to the officials of those cities for information, and afterwards to Detroit, in our own country, but considering them beyond our present means, I let them rest. It is called "The Silox-Polar Process of Water Purification." I have before me reports from eight or ten cities, large and small, from sanitary engineers, officials, etc. In this article I can quote parts of but one or two. This from the "American Sanitary Engineering Co.," Detroit: "Filtration through Silox, and Purification through Polarize, combine to produce the greatest efficiency with the greatest economy." Extract from Stratford Herald, Ontario, 1897. Chairman Melton Mobray, population 7,000, writes that "before adopting the international system about eighteen months ago, they visited numerous works with various systems, and then concluded that this was the best. The Lady tanks are certainly a very great improvement over the old square settling tanks. The method of cleaning out is very simple and effective, and can be done by a strong lad in a very short time."

"Early cost of precipitant by Ferizone under a contract with International Purification Co., $100 or $500 on an estimated daily flow of 200,000 gallons. Estimated cost of maintenance for labor, exclusive of pumping, $100 or $500 per annum. The effluent is sufficiently pure to discharge into a small stream. The total cost of construction of works, with tanks, clarifiers, polarite beds and clarifiers was about $2,000 or $3,000. The system has given us satisfaction."

MUCH GOOD ACCOMPLISHED.

By our Special Representative.

Last Sunday will not soon be forgotten by the people who attended the services at the Armory.

SUNDAY MORNING.

Mr. Lyon's sermon in the morning was a most earnest and touching one upon "Doing the Will of God." He put all the emphasis possible upon the necessity for obedience in the Christian life. "If any one is to be effective in Christian effort he must not seek his own will or desire, but have as his highest motive in life the will of God as his inspiration. Then, too, there can be no peace for the individual who thinks that personal liberty is a license to do wrong, or to one who is content to live a half-hearted religious life. It's only the out-and-out Christian that can face his Lord and feel that 'peace which passeth all understanding.' Then, again, doing the will of God is necessary to salvation. Men do try to satisfy themselves that they can have eternal life, and yet give only a part of their life in the Lord's service, but the Lordship of Jesus demands the unconditional surrender to Him in every relationship we have in life. A man is not saved if he disobeys God's command to 'Remember the Sabbath Day and keep it holy,' or breaks the command 'Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain.' Neither can a man have 'Christ in him, the hope of glory' who breaks any other of the commandments, for it is possible for all to keep them, for no matter what may be the temptation we have the assurance that 'God's grace is sufficient' for all under all circumstances."

SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

The men's meeting in the afternoon was well attended, and all felt that a crisis was reached in many lives. Mr. Lyon reached a sublime climax in his appeal to the intelligence and manhood of the men. He showed that his theme, "Sowing and reaping" was indeed true, proving by illustrations from nature, from history, from communities and from individual experiences that we do reap what we sow. We reap also as we sow, and we reap more than we sow. He appealed to the men to do something definite in the matter of coming out in the Christian life, and eighteen responded. It was a great meeting, and will not soon be forgotten.

SUNDAY EVENING.

But the greatest meeting was the one at night. The Armory was crowded. The singing of the splendid chorus was inspiring. The sermon was delivered in a way that impressed all with the sincerity of the evangelist, and his tender solicitude, in this last meeting, for those who would not "step over the border line."

At the close of the appeal for decision, Mr. Lyon asked all to come forward who had accepted Jesus as their Lord and Master during the meetings, and those who had been reclaimed, and in an address filled with cheer and tenderness, urged them to prove steadfast, to unite with some church at once and to begin at once some active work. The closing was affecting while so many were crowding to get to Mr. Lyon to bid him good bye.

Monday morning Mr. Lyon, with Mr. Conley and the ministers who had been together through the meeting, met at Mr. Roby's studio and had a picture taken, and then Mr. Lyon gave his parting word to the pastors, who must have the responsibility of organizing, unifying and building up of the work that has been done—the hardest part in every case—and these pastors need now more than ever before, the hearty cooperation of every loyal lay worker in the church, and those who feel inclined to skulk and shirk their responsibility should, if they will not line up for real work, be honorable enough to get out of the way. A number of those who had been active in the meetings gathered at the depot Monday afternoon today good bye to the evangelists. Just before the train arrived, Mr. Lyon gave his last words of advice and cheer upon "the inner circle." He said there were five circles in the Christian life. Each individual must come within one of them, and those who desire to come to the "inner circle" must pass through all the others. These circles are:

1. The outer circle, which is the circle of faith.
2. The circle of service.
3. The circle of fellowship.
4. The circle of love.
5. The inner circle of love.

The leaving-taking was sad because the prospects are so unpromising for ever meeting these men again in this world. They arrived in Chicago, Ill., Wednesday, and Sunday, November 1, they began meetings in Downer's Grove, Ill. The stay of those men has been a blessing to many who were wavering and uncertain in their Christian devotion. They have awakened a great interest in eternal things. Those who heard them, and who continue in sin do so at greater cost because they must feel more keenly the individual responsibility, and they must face more consciously than ever before that the great teaching of God's word is that "the wages of sin is death." The beneficial results is a matter of great rejoicing. Two hundred and fifteen made the start in the Christian life, either for the first time or as taking upon themselves anew the vows of more earnest effort and sincere motives.
